The 34th Annual Young At Art Juried Exhibition 2022

Place: Spaces That Shape Us

Sponsored by EHCC and the Hawai'i District Department of Education

The Young at Art annual juried exhibition celebrates National Youth Art Month by recognizing the excellence, creativity and originality of K-12 students on the Big Island in all public, charter, and private schools, as well as home-schooled students.

Please note that the exhibit will be centered around a theme, and all submissions will be made online, with physical submissions of only the accepted art works.

The theme of the 2022 Young at Art Exhibit is: Place: Spaces That Shape Us. This year's theme asks students to reflect on significant settings that have impacted them in important ways. The theme seeks to examine identity and how it is informed by the spaces around us. We ask students to create from these places, physically or metaphorically, and look at the roles that these spaces have played in shaping who they are today. We encourage students to explore emotional connections to certain locations, positive or negative, big, small, real, imaginary...

PREPARATION, REQUIREMENTS AND SUBMISSION: Please note changes.

All of the information below can be found at: <https://www.ehcc.org/content/young-art-info-2022>

Step 1: Complete the Young At Art Teacher Information Form. You will then be given access to a Google Drive folder to complete the submission process.

Step 2: Work with your students on creating art works in compliance with the rules of entry:

1. Submitted works must be original works by the student(s). Group works are permissible.
2. Maximum of 2 entries per student.
3. Pieces may be any medium, two-dimensional (drawings, paintings, flat collages, weavings, photographs, etc.) or three-dimensional (ceramics, sculptures, jewelry, dioramas, etc.)
4. Mount/mat with white or neutral heavy weight paper or mats. Do not frame in wood, metal, plastic or glass unless it is a vital part of the display, such as many pieces displayed together.
5. Schools of fewer than 1500 students will be limited to 30 entries. Schools with more than 1500 students are allowed 60 entries. Group entries will be counted as one entry. Teachers are asked to work out a fair distribution of entries for each school.
6. Each submission should be accompanied by a short artist's statement (up to 250 words) describing the work's embodiment of the exhibit theme, "Place: Spaces That Shape Us"

Step 3: Photograph the entries.

1. Photography guidelines:
 - a. Photos should be square dimensions
 - b. Resolution of at least 72 DPI
 - c. No backlight or shadows
 - d. White tone of light, if possible
 - e. Crop for minimal background
2. For 3D pieces, multiple angles may be submitted.
3. Photo file names should include:
 - a. Student's name
 - b. Grade
 - c. Title of work
 - d. Medium

Step 4: Submit the entries via the Google Drive folder provided to you

1. Create a folder for each submission, and include all photos and the artist's statement.
2. We suggest submitting photos ahead of time if you are unsure if the quality is acceptable. Retakes will be allowed as time permits. If photos are unusable, the entry will be disqualified.

Step 5: Complete the Young At Art Entry Sheet in your Google Drive folder.

Please encourage students to name their artwork. More than one untitled work from the same student should be numbered (Untitled 1, 2, etc.).

Step 6: Email youngatarthawaii@gmail.com when all steps have been completed so that the entries can be reviewed. All steps must be completed by Saturday, February 19 at 11:59pm.
